“ My brother, Clyde was an exceptional person. He was mischievous and his dry sense of humor could make your darkest day light. He used many one-liners and you never knew when one would be flung your way. Clyde loved to joke around and make people smile.

Clyde was humble and lived a simple life, not possessing many material things, and not expecting much. He fought a courageous battle against his illnesses and he NEVER complained. He always held onto the belief that he would get better and refused to give up, even up to his last hours. He was a warrior, an inspiration to me, a hero. The scripture I attribute most to Clyde is Philippians 1:3 “Every time I think of you, I give thanks to my God.”

Clyde, rest in the peace of God. Love you, Priscilla

“ Clyde was a kind hearted person. He could always make you laugh. Even on a bad day just to hear him laugh would brighten your day. He loved to play little jokes on his friends including Mr Knuckles. Knew him since 1st grade & remained friends through the years.
