A private family interment will take place in All Souls Cemetery, Chardon, OH.

A celebration of life will be held at a later date.

“ They say that generosity and giving to others gives you the most happiness and joy... So that means my grandma must've been one of the happiest people in the world during her life.

She taught me how to be thoughtful, have kind speech, release judgement of others (unless it was George W or Trump when she shocked me with a few zingers haha), and how to be patient<<< all of which I'll still be learning from her example for life. When I visited her through glass and a screen the last few months, I was dying inside wanting to know the next time I'd hug her and tell her how beautiful she is. How she is my bestie and how much she means to me. But my last hug was in late Feb. I would visit her before I left for a long Africa trip and she'd be among the first to see me within 24 hours of returning. I never tired of her company.

She was one of the first Cleveland Cavs super-fans, so we got along great. I lived with her three different times in my life all of which were transformational. She was ALWAYS there for me. No questions asked, no judgement and no hesitation to give all of her love.

I'll be looking for you in the stars grandma and your memory is one of the biggest blessings we could ever imagine receiving. I love you. Xoxoxoxoxo
