“ Dear Family of Russ Herbert,
I began my career with Penton Media in 1973 and Russ Herbert was my first boss there. He was a great person to work for, a generous and knowledgeable mentor, and a trusted colleague as I worked my way through the ranks at Penton. Way back then, the "personnel department", as Human Resources was known as at the time, was just Russ and me. My first duty on my first day on the job with him was to type "sorry, the position has been filled" letters to the 50 or so applicants who didn't get picked for the job! I always felt very fortunate that Russ chose me over all of those other applicants. I spent almost 30 years at Penton and I owe my good start there to him. I feel very fortunate to have known and to have worked for this fine man.
My condolences and warmest regards,
Pat Gibson

“ I first met Russ as a patient in the dental office that I worked in. I thought he was very personable. Very well dressed, funny and good looking. It was a real pleasure to assist him. Then I met his wife Shirley. I was doubly impressed with meeting her as well. We have kept in contact over the years and it has been a lovely friendship. My husband and I were able to visit Russ one final time in May when we were back in town for a visit. I will never forget that. Our hearts go out to Shirley and her family at this time.
