“ My mom shared fond memories with me about summer visits to Cleveland where she would play with her cousins Angie and Edie at Uncle Jim and Aunt Maggie's home. Aunt Angie, like my mom, lived through the great depression, World War 2 and gave Joe and Dennis what they needed to have a better life. She overcame the loss of her husband and was ahead of her time in becoming a working single mom.

We always enjoyed talking to her at family events. Her knowledge and her intellectual curiosity always made for interesting discussions. No doubt if she had the opportunity she could have become one of the professionals she worked for.

We will miss her and the legacy she is part of --- families who came from the villages in Sicily to have new lives in America.

Joe and Dennis, my thoughts and prayers are with you.
