

David Post III

May 14, 1988 - December 25, 2020

David Post III, age, 32, of Madison Twp., died December 25, 2020. He was born May 14, 1988, in Painesville.

David worked as an entrepreneur as a travel agent in Florida. His hobbies were: weight lifting, martial arts, basketball, softball, and golf. He loved to ride his motorcycle in Florida and loved to ride dirt bikes and ATV's with his Dad and brothers. He loved reading and his favorite book series was "A Game of Thrones", he was an artist and drew many beautiful pictures. He loved dogs and training them. He enjoyed being in the sunshine by the ocean and wanted to move back to Florida and to spend lost time with his youngest brother Aaron there.

As a child, he always wanted to be on the run, anything outdoors in the sun with his family and friends. He loved the outdoors, catching frogs, snakes, insects, and fish. He loved to golf at school, with Dad, his youngest brother Aaron and Uncle Joey. He was a very good athlete in basketball, softball, soccer and Taekwondo and could accelerate at anything he put his mind to, including math.

He always just wanted to be loved and accepted, he wanted companionship. He battled addiction but his family and true friends know there's so much more to Davey than he saw in himself. He was so bright, such a big heart that would help anyone, such a beautiful smile and laugh that will be forever missed and a void in our hearts that can never be filled. No matter what his personal struggles were, he always cared and took the time to help so many others by tutoring or mentoring them. He touched many lives, most who have gone on to lead successful lives, and have said it was his influence and belief in them that gave them what they needed to succeed.

We know you are at peace now and safe in the arms of God and we have the hope of meeting again, without this hope I have no meaning in life. I no longer fear death as I know you will be waiting for me with Jesus and our loved ones and we will have a joyous reunion. Life will be hard and lonely without you until then, but this is not the end. Life goes by in a blink of an eye and I will be with you again.

Survivors include his parents, David Post Jr., and Laura Sherwood; brothers, Aaron Post and Tommy Salvatore; half-siblings, Jack and Rhonda Sherwood; paternal grandmother, Sandra Shultz; maternal grandmother, Elizabeth Hutchinson; aunts, Michelle (Rick) Mihna, and Dawn (Pat) Davis; uncles, Shawn (Liz) Gilbert, Rex (Julie) Hutchinson, and Dale (Neena) Hutchinson; nephew Dylan and niece Bryanna. David is also survived by many other loving family members and friends.

“ I came to talk to you tonight where you passed to let you know you are never forgotten, how much I love you, I will see you soon and I know we will be looking for each other. Can't wait to see you son. I take comfort that God will not let those that had something to do with your death, that knew where you were, that didn't speak up, that sent you into a spiral, that pretended to be your friend and drove a knife in your back to betray you, I take comfort that God sees everything and knows everything and that, even though there's no justice now, they're will be justice in the end and they will have to answer sooner or later. I take comfort in it. I take comfort in Christmas and its meaning and I hope that it gives that I will see you again one day. Love you forever and always my friend.

“ Remembering your smile today and every day. Missing you more than ever today. Just as hard today as it was the day you left me. Seen a cardinal in the tree today that I took my last picture of you in the driveway by. He hangs out there a lot. A lot of times he will be there when I walk out for work. A reminder to me from God maybe? Today is Good Friday and is my hope I get to see you again. You are in my heart every day. It's a hard time as your birthday is coming up but I will always be celebrating what a blessing God gave me for a short period in life. Love you forever my son. ❤️💕❤️💕

“ I’m back here again remembering my beloved son. Thanking of you every single day that goes by. It’s a darker place without you and I keep my faith in Jesus and that this world and all of its pain is only temporary and your in a better place, that we may meet again someday soon. You are in our hearts forever. Thinking of you again today riding you around the yard on my motorcycle. Love you always.

“ Just picturing your face in my mind today, reminding myself how you changed my life for good even though my time with you was so short. Tears fill my eyes daily still missing you. I miss you calling me, still waiting for the phone to ring saying "Hey dad". Thinking of you on your birthday today and everyday. Was picturing you on the beach today messing with the squirrel on the palm tree and you laughing. Hoping your safe in Gods hands and happy where you are.

Another birthday, another Father's Day gone by I'm going missing you more than ever son. I go riding when I can, always stop where we played ball together, where I practice batting and catching with you, where we sled ride, where we go down to the river and catch snakes and hike when you were young. I'm always looking for you, I was looking in the rear view mirror wishing I could see you riding behind me, wishing you were with me and your brother Aaron. I remember riding you on the back of the VMAX on county line where we did a wheelie by the railroad tracks. Did it burn out for you on the VMAX who is my eyes full of tears. Each each day is as hard as the last one without you. Miss you so much and still cannot believe you're gone. I'm keeping the hope we meet again. Love you so much son.

“ I will always remember how God placed you in my life, how I cried when you where born because I was so overwhelmed with joy. How you made me grow up, want to live, to be a better man then my father was to me. I was not the perfect father to you but I always wanted to be. I love you with all of my heart, will never forget you though many may, I will carry you in my heart for the rest of my days. I will be lonely and regret every harsh word I've ever said to you and wish I could take it back and just hold you a little longer. I will hold on to my faith that you knew God and our with him now and I will see you again in a twinkle of an eye. Until then son rest in Peace, God keep you safe and his loving arms till we meet again. Love you always. Dad.

“ I remember when my Davey was just a little guy and he would come in and sleep with me (dad) and we would argue who loved each other the most by counting and topping each other. Seemed like an hour saying "no I love you 1199 times more but started at one. He could count so high for his age. He has always been my reason to live along with his brother. Nothing will ever fill the void I have in my heart now.
