Greg had a sense of humor that was never to be confused with the absolute sincerity of his actions. He was the kind of husband that cared deeply for his wife and her parents. He was the kind of stepfather that became a genuine father figure and friend. To be his friend was a privilege. He was a loyal, honest, and well-organized person. His no-nonsense demeanor would soon melt in the company of his feline companions and beloved grandchildren. Greg was taken from us with little warning. Too soon gone for those

“ Dear Greg, it has been a long time since I have been able to see you or speak to you. Life happened, we all got married. Some moved away and like you, others stayed. Know I missed you and you were thought of often and some great day I pray I will see you again. Your family is and always will be in my prayers. Until that day.. ♡♡♡
