“ I have many memories of grandma. Starting with the many Christmas Eve nights at her house with the rest of the family. Her and grandpa taught me how to ski before I learned how to ride a bike . She introduced me to cream Of wheat for breakfast and rice pudding for dessert. She had me singing from day one and had me doing Kenny Rogers songs with her all the time. The weekends when I got to sleep over we're always fun. I always looked forward to lent every year as we would head out West Geauga High School for their pancake breakfast. She started hosting a 4th of July cook out with Ed which worked out great since she was 2 streets away from North High and we could watch the fireworks from her back yard. Our kids enjoyed spending time with GG anytime they had a chance to, especially when she got to come to Indiana and spend a few days with. We have great memories and her love to sustain us until we are reunited and never be parted again.
