“ Im sorry that I am just now writing. Here at work we still talk about Jim! He almost got me interested in coins, but it was short lived, lol. Jim was very nice and he noticed immediately when I joined his team that I like to laugh. I shared a pool story about my husband with Jim and he made a joke that was hilarious. Briefly over the phone Jim and my husband shared military stories. Jim spoke often about his wife Tina, his brother that also worked in the same building, his dad and his athlete nephew. I also had the pleasure of seeing a pic of his dog Chubb! Jim is still and will continue to be missed forever. Connie Smith

“ Jim was a great supervisor. Even though he thought didn't share much, he did. He was so excited when his nephew was accepted to OU, go Bobcats! I never knew his wife's name, until now, because he referred to her always as his better half - and, I am most certain you are :) He really loved you. He spoke about every lunch he had with his brother, watching games with his dad, his trips to Florida (if I remember correctly), family gatherings, and talking about his family's heritage, and many more - he was so proud. He had core values he stood by, and also lived by. No one that met Jim will forget him and often think of him, I know I won't. He wasn't just a supervisor, he was also a mentor. I hope his family and close friends will stay in good spirits. Because I know he is, and will hold you to it. - Cara Wesley

“ Jim will be missed! I enjoyed working with him and always trusted his calm, steady approach with his team and our customers. Every time I saw Jim, he had a kind smile and gave me a nod to let me know he had things under control. I am glad I got to know him! And glad I have such vivid and happy memories of him!

“ Jim trained me on many things in CivPay while he was my lead and continued to be willing to answer any questions I had even after we were no longer on the same team. We shared laughs together as he had many stories from his years in government and military. So sorry to hear this sad news! My condolences to the family.

“ I am very sad to hear of Jim's passing. I had the privilege of working with him for nearly 10 years. He was very helpful and supportive and so enjoyed our conversations of sports, government, and politics even though we often did not agree. My thoughts and prayers are with his wife and family. RIP Jim. We will miss you.
