“ Jim was wonderful to work with. He generously shared his knowledge and enthusiasm for learning, making every interaction a rewarding experience. Jim remained a passionate Browns fan throughout, and whether on job sites or over dinner, we often found ourselves discussing potential draft opportunities and quarterback prospects. His friendship and presence will be deeply missed.

I want to express my gratitude for the friendships, mentorship, and countless shared moments. I shall carry the lessons learned taught by Jim.

“ I lost my husband nearly 17 years ago. Ed loved meeting Jim near Lake Erie to sail. Sailing brought great joy to both men. I enjoyed the farm especially the animals. May his memory be a blessing.
