“ I was shocked and saddened to learn of Kevin’s passing tonight. I had the privilege of working with Kevin for several years, and he was not only one of the smartest on my team, but also a genuinely good friend.

Kevin was thoughtful and incredibly principled in the way he approached both work and life. You always felt a little smarter after a conversation with him.

Beyond that, he was simply a great person to know—kind, curious, and quietly funny. The world needs more people like Kevin.

My deepest condolences to his parents, family, and everyone who had the good fortune to know him. He will be remembered with great respect and gratitude.

“ Kevin has been a great friend to me ever since high school. We have had countless adventures that ranged from attending sporting events to sailing (both single day and multi-day trips), hiking, and biking (our longest ride together was 80 miles). He even would come out to Maine to visit us in the winter time!!! The boys called him Uncle Kevin and got excited about his visits. A few times during his visits to Maine he would come with us to the kids sporting events. My wife was writing a paper regarding marine conservation and he helped her with the statistics. Such a terrific person. He will deeply missed.
