“Maggie was a good neighbor. She loved to talk and tell stories. She loved talking about her grandkids when they were growing up. She loved to know all about my family. She was funny and loved to laugh! She loved working in her yard and making it look nice, and it always did! She also put Rick to work in the yard! She loved Rick so much, and they had a lot of fun together. They loved going on trips to different casinos and most of the time they came back with big wins! They had a very special love story. When Maggie wasn't able to go to the salon anymore, I would do her hair and nails. She loved to look nice. Sometimes, I would call her “Marvelous Meg” after a nail polish color I put on her nails. She would just smile! If you wanted to know something about the neighborhood or the history, you would go to Maggie. She knew everything and everyone! We had some good times together. I will miss Her very much, but I know she is with Jesus now, and that is far better!

“ I LOVED working with Maggie at Heinen's. She had the greatest sense of humor of any person I knew. Maggie was positive and uplifting !! She first worked in the bank that had a satellite office in our store. We were so sad to hear that the bank was closing this office.....BUT .....sadness turned into joy when Heinen's made the wise decision to hire Maggie as a cashier. When I had my first child, "Smitty " made a beautiful handmade Rocking Horse and wooden Toy Chest that I still have to this day !!!! I am soooo sorry for the loss of your beloved, Maggie.

“ I loved working at HEINEN'S with Maggie. She would always share her pink mints with me. She'd have little funny things to say kinda under her breath but we'd catch on and laugh.
