“ Aunt Mary will be greatly missed! There are so many good things that can be said about her that I don't even know where to begin!!! I will miss calling her just to say Hi and to see how she is doing. I would tell her about what's going on with my daughter and I and she would tell me about what's going on with her and what she has been doing.

I remember when I was a little girl she would always try to convince me that my parents were lying to me and that my name was my sisters name and her name was mine. She would sit there with us telling us that only she knew the truth and that everyone else was crazy that's why they called us the wrong names!!! She was so funny!!

*I will for ever miss her,

“ EVERYONE SHOULD HAVE HAD AN AUNT LIKE AUNT MARY ...

Aunt Mary had always been in my life. I was born while she was still a kid in high school and she babysat me. We all lived together for several years in two houses on the same property on Whittier Avenue. After she graduated from high school I remember waiting for her to come home from work. She was always so elegantly dressed. Then she would change clothes and come outside with us. Aunt Mary had a zany sense of humor and was known to keep us laughing. Who could forget her famous “moose call”? After she married I babysat for her sons. She later became my first landlady when I moved away from home. Russ and Jeff, my cousins, were more like my brothers during those years.

While I comforted her when she lost her husband Stanley, years later she comforted me when I lost my husband Bill.

There are so many other stories that will keep replaying in my mind. It's been quite a journey, Aunt Mary, and you will be missed.

Love, Carole Nazar, Niece

“ Mary was the best mother in law that I could have asked for. She offered advice only when it was asked for. And she was always very supportive and a great listener. She was also good about taking your advice on things. If she agreed with you! Her and I spent MANY hours on the phone discussing just about anything. This was back when you had to sit in one place, attached to a cord, and could only do one thing at a time.

Although I suspect that she didn't tell Russ how worried she was about his traveling and flying, she told me quite often. Many times I had to "talk her down" whenever there was an accident ANYWHERE in the country. I think her compliments about Russell and Jeffrey that she had a hard time saying to them, she always told me. She loved them both very much and always looked for the good in them.

She was always great at complimenting me though! She often told me how happy she was that I was her daughter in law, and I know she loved me too. There would be times that I couldn't get ahold of her for hours. She had many friends that she would "bum" around with on the phone or lunch with. They were also very important to her.

Mary was at her happiest when she was with Kelsey and Nicholas. She thought they were the smartest and best grandchildren to ever walk the earth. She loved hearing about all their accomplishments and couldn't wait to share that information with anyone who would listen. They could do no wrong. Even if they did. We are all very happy that she got to see the wonderful adults they turned into and the happiness in their lives. When Nick was 3 and started preschool, I started teaching and Grandma would pick him up and spend the afternoons with him. Their trips to Burger King and garage sales made her so happy. She always talked about those special times babysitting and loved every minute of it. I know that Kelsey and Nick have wonderful memories of Grandma gift bags and her inside jokes. But most of all their times spent together. I know I do.
