“ I met Michael when we both lived on Greenvale in Cleveland, near the So Euclid border. My recollection is that we were 6 or 7 years old. We lived next to Groton playground, and Mike's family lived up the street. My mom was friendly with Mrs Kane, probably because she had so many boys and so did our family. Mike was always popular and fun. He was friends with all the boys who tended to get into trouble with the nuns. Those were great, wonderful memories! I moved away from Greenvale in 6th grade but continued to see Mike everyday at school. As we entered our pre-teen years I saw Mike at the Quarry pool in the summer as well as Denison park. He was always outgoing & funny. To his friends he was devotedly loyal. After graduation, we all went our separate ways, as life tends to unfold. I reconnected with Mike after a school reunion many many years later ~ It was impressive to see the fine person he had become. I'm so grateful I had the chance to see him again. God bless you Michael.
