“ We enjoyed many fun times with Bob at Eastern Michigan while his son, Brad was playing baseball there with our son Ryan. He definitely kept everyone on their toes with stories throughout the years with his family. I know he will be missed so much. We need to just remember the good times and cherish the great memories. I remember my cousin, Bobby, as a cute, sweet little boy who tolerated my teaching him how to play the accordion for a short time when he was about 7 and I was about 12. Although I moved from our hometown many years ago, when I was able to return to Cleveland for family events, Bobby was always fun to be with and had interesting stories to share about his family, especially his buddies--his dad and his b-i-l "Coach" (aka Mark Schmotzer). When my husband, Michael, met him they became fast friends, sharing their love of sports and his son Brad's accomplishments in wrestling.

I often felt bad about the health problems he encountered--it just didn't seem fair. It's truly sad that we lost him so soon.

Michael and I send our sympathies to his children, siblings, and in-laws. May he rest in peace in the company of Jesus and his mom and dad.
