“ Sandy was my like second mom growing up, she was always there to love me and keep me safe just as any mother would. She loved my daughter the same as she did me and again was always there. She never missed a birthday or especially holidays as anyone knows how special those days were to her. Her house showed that when one holiday decorations were coming down the next was going up. So much love and laughter gods has a special holiday decorator now , every time I see a shooting star she will be the first I think of! We love you
