“ Shane was such a funny, loving and carefree person who will be very missed. I'll never forget the way he would light up when Spongebob came on the TV or when he got to listen to Taylor Swift. Sending many prayers and condolences in this time for his family and all touched by Shane. He was one of a kind and I'm positive none of us will ever forget him.

“ I’m so sorry for your loss. Shane made his way into the hearts of every person he met. I will always remember him for the day I met him and he continued to play with my zipper on my sweatshirt. The stories you have shared with me about him will always be remembered. He was always a happy young man~ without a care in the world~ he just loved life! He was here for a short time but touched more lives than most people who are here a lot longer. His smiling face will always be remembered. I’m here for you both~ for anything at all 💜💙💙

“ Shane looked just like his father and had his mother's kind smile. Shane mastered this world of complexity with his ability to enjoy life and live in the present moment. He didn't worry about the past or dwell on the future, he was satisfied being exactly who he was. Shane's legacy is his laughter and his ability to love fully. Prayers are sent forth for Shane's continued journey and to his family Pete and Joan Wallace, whom he loved very much!

Shane was the miracle boy. Sweet, kind, and without any hostility or anger in his heart. His parent's Joan and Pete were very devoted to him and enjoyed each moment they were all together, a very special family. His home at Hattie allowed him to experience so much more. Surround by their loving staff, he was never alone and always respected. Shane taught all of us the true meaning of what it is to be a good, kind person, no strings attached. My heart goes out to Joan, Pete, and anyone who was lucky enough to be in his life.
