“ Dearest mommy,
It is still difficult to believe your gone, even though I was there when you took your last breath. I know that over time my grief will lessen, but right now. It is so hard. You were an amazing woman. Your love for your family never faltered, even on those days when we tried your patience. The dedication to your profession never wavered, and because of that you touched so many. I've heard your former coworkers describe you as tough. This was said with respect. Our trips to the beach won't be the same you gone, but we will go and enjoy because that's what you would want. I will continue to try and live my in ways that make you proud. Im grateful and proud that you were my mama.

Love always
Jill
