My heart still breaks every time I think of you & your family's loss. I know how much my own Mom cherishes the time spent with all of her grandchildren & how much they adore her. Your mother did an AMAZING job raising such a wonderful son &, as a mother myself, know how proud she must've been of you every single day! I pray & wish you solace in knowing she loved her baby dearly as well as letting you know she will always be near, watching over you and your family and protecting you as best as she can!
