“ I have a few memories I will share a few. When visiting on occasion when we went out to eat his favorite place was Red Lobster. I also recall after Tim came to visit in Toledo It ended up that I was going to go back with him. So we hit the turnpike and I opened it up we had to do 80 all the way to exit to 90. The only hang up we had was an old guy that would not let us pass him.. I bet he keep us at the speed limit for miles before he finally let us get by him as he got over to slow lane. I was surprised that we did not see one trooper or police car on our journey. Tim came over to Toledo when the boys were younger not sure how old. But He wanted to go to the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn,Mi. So we did, it was a good time and I know He enjoyed seeing all the old cars trains and History. On the way home as we were driving down I 75 back to Toledo. A car started into our lane and began to cut us off Tim swerved, as he did the car careened left and right a few times, slid sideways until He finally gained control of the car on the inside shoulder. I remember him saying I cannot believe how calm you guys were, no screaming it may have helped me gain control. He did a great job of keeping control of the car and placing it were it needed to be. Two thumbs up. I remember him telling me he was upset that the car would loose control like that and that he was trading and or getting rid of the car the next day.
