“ It is my absolute privilege to say that I was Bill’s friend at Shore Jr. High, Mentor High – and for a few memorable years after that. Bill was the kind of guy that you would want to have with you in the foxhole. He was smart, resourceful, confident, and always had your back. He proved that many times throughout the time I knew him. I’ve been re-living memories of Bill this past week – Jr. High football, working on his Camaro, Led Zeppelin and Pink Floyd concerts, and going to Browns games at the old stadium. Memories of what we did are fading, but not of Bill himself. He taught me a few life lessons, and I will never forget him. Rest in peace Bill!

“ I had not seen Bill for years and years and then we met on the Beach several years in a row. It's that Beach that tied all of us together. As kids and young teenagers, we used to play tennis on the clay court right behind the James's. I remember Bill's dad bringing us tennis balls and sometimes racquets. Bill and I and the rest of the gang played Capture the Flag, using the entire neighborhood, with the street as No Mans' Land. Bill's team invariably won. We would sit on his lawn as the adults hung out in the evening. Bill is a huge part of those memories. He was a good kid, and a good, good man.

“ Billy was like a brother to me, we grew up together on Brighton Rd. My memories of beach parties, boating, water skiing, concerts, hanging out with friends and family, turning me on to the best music, and being there for each other in good and bad times will forever live in my heart and soul. I only got mad at him once when he took me on a joy ride in his camero, hitting over 100 miles an hour on Rt. 44 I did forgive him lol we still laughed about those times right up to the end. You will be dearly missed, we will meet again one day. Your friend Jeannett (Pohto) Stanzi

“ Ah, Billy. 53 years is quite some time to be friends with someone. 4th grade I believe is when I first met you. All the years of Bantam league football, Jr High football and High School. Even ended up working at the same company when I got home from the Marines. Seems like yesterday. Every once in awhile I would wonder which one of use would be the first to go, but I surely though that we would be old men when the time came. Guess I got my answer. Thanks for being a great friend and a real man. It was a pleasure being your friend all those years. Love ya, brother! John Washco

“I remember Bill(y) growing up when our families gathered for Thanksgiving or Christmas. He was always polite and quiet. But when he smiled his eyes sparkled and the whole room lit up. I always knew he was a good guy through and through. I will miss him. Diane Osborne
